Investment Strategy

The Fund's principal investment strategy is to invest in a diversified portfolio of equities, bonds, preferred stock, and options. Under normal market conditions, the Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets in equity securities that pay a dividend and are within the market capitalization range of the Russell 1000 Value Index. With respect to its remaining assets, the Fund may invest in corporate bonds, sovereign bonds, convertible bonds, preferred stocks, or other securities or instruments whose prices are linked to the value of the underlying common stock of the issuer of the securities. The Fund may have up to 25% of its net assets invested directly or indirectly in foreign equity securities, including investments in emerging markets.

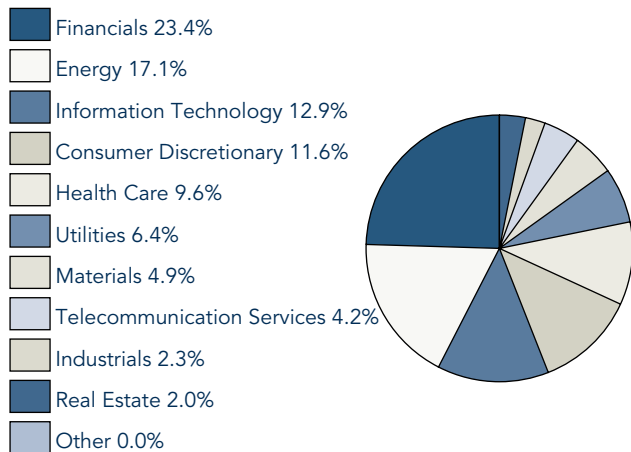

Investment Philosophy

Snow Capital Management employs a contrarian, fundamental, relative value investment philosophy. We believe that attractive returns can be earned by constructing diversified portfolios of well-managed, financially strong companies where the stock price is depressed because the company has experienced short-to intermediate-term difficulties. The philosophy is consistent with modern behavioral finance research. It attempts to take advantage of investors' overreaction to negative surprises and as a result should avoid overpaying for the crowd's current favorites.

The philosophy relies on independent, fundamental research to determine the nature of the problem, assess the likelihood of a solution, gain confidence that the company has the financial resources to survive the difficulty, and to estimate the likely value of the company's stock after the problem is resolved. Only stocks with the highest potential returns make it into the portfolio. When skillfully executed, this contrarian philosophy should result in a portfolio of stocks with the potential for an asymmetrical payoff. The downside should be minimized because the stock price is already depressed, the company appears to be in sound financial condition, Wall Street's opinion is already negative, and investor expectations are low. The upside potential may be enhanced by the expected earnings turn-around, and more powerfully, the potential expansion of the price-to-earnings ratio that a positive change in investor sentiment can generate after an earnings recovery.

Important Disclosures

The fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other important information about the investment company, and it may be obtained by calling 1-877-766-9363 or visiting www.snowfunds.com. Read it carefully before investing.

The Russell 1000 Value Index measures the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. You cannot invest directly in an index.

The price-to-earnings ratio (P/E Ratio) is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; principal loss is possible. Investments in small cap companies involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than large cap companies. Investments in foreign securities involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. These risks are greater for emerging markets. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. The fund may also use options, which have the risks of unlimited losses of the underlying holdings due to unanticipated market movements and failure to correctly predict the direction of securities prices, interest rates and currency exchange rates. The investment in options is not suitable for all investors. Investments in convertible securities may fall in value if interest rates rise.

Diversification does not assure a profit nor protect against loss in a declining market.
